SCHOOL SAFETY YESTERDAY,
TODAY AND TOMORROW –
SEPARATING FACT FROM FICTION
AND HOW TO IDENTIFY AND
CORRECT GAPS IN SCHOOL
SAFETY, SECURITY AND
EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

This information-packed session is based on the presenter's extensive experience providing official post-incident assistance for more than 300 K12 school crisis events including 21 active shooter and targeted school shootings and a terrorist attack on a Christian school field trip in Kenya. Providing powerful lessons learned from nearly 9,000 real-time school crisis simulations with school employees in 45 states. Focusing on practical, actionable, and sustainable approaches that can be implemented without floating a bond referendum. Also designed with an understanding that school and community partner agencies have limitations on time, energy and budget which make it imperative that these three precious types of resources not be squandered on popular but ineffective and sometimes even unsafe approaches.

*Michael Dorn, Executive Director
